

Hoover Happenings

For the week of 4/1/24

Mrs. Parmelee's Third Grade Class

This week we practiced for M-STEP ELA because we are having that test next week on Wednesday. Make sure to be here, well rested, on that day. We have been doing our cursive and working on multiplication, skip counting, and repeated addition. We showed this with cube trai jjjjjjjns. We are still reading and studying traditional tales. We have been talking about cultures a lot too. Mrs. Parmelee suggests all students have a conversation with family members about family history and background because it is so interesting!88uu

Everyone was happy to celebrate PAW expectations with some pizza on Friday!

Mrs. Houston's Fourth Grade Class

We have spent this week in science learning about water waves. We discussed what they look like, how to make them bigger or smaller, and what happens when you squeeze a droplet of water from low/high distances.

Ms. Johnson's Fourth Grade Class

The Easter Bunny left some eggs in Ms. Johnson's basket for the kiddos this week! We had a blast on our classroom egg hunt!

Fifth Grade Class

We the third quarter wrapping up and spring arriving we are excited about all of our Upcoming events. Finishing the year out strong and staying focused. Painting a healthy happy learning environment where we are able to share and grow together!

Mrs. Bienstock's Fifth Grade Class

As we end the third quarter and enter into the final phase of our elementary years, the excitement is rising! This week we got creative with reading the second book of our ARC core book, Stormrunners. It was a major cliff hanger and we just were not ready to let go. Mrs. Bienstock found Book 2, The Surge, on her Kindle so she got the audio book and projected it on the Smartboard for us! We are now HOOKED on "Series Books"!

Mrs. Torres Steam & Art Class!

We've been busy studying Impressionism in Art. We painted gardens and lily pads in the style of Claude Monet! We have such talented artists at Hoover.
